NAMI Indiana Strategic Plan: 2000-2002

PLANNING PROCESS

History

The NAMI Indiana planning process, as for many other organizations, was born in crisis. In November 1998 the elected president of NAMI Indiana had resigned. Soon thereafter the acting Executive Director was asked to resign since the organization had run out of funds to pay her. A couple that was coordinating the Family-to-Family program also resigned in this timeframe. The organization and the Board were in crisis. In mid-November, 1998 an informal group comprised primarily of Family-to-Family teachers met to discuss solutions to the crisis facing the organization. Also attending was Jill Taylor and Dee Weeks who had volunteered to serve as president. The idea that emerged from this group was to hold a Board Retreat in early 1999 to address the crisis and to set long term direction. The Retreat was held on January 30-31, 1999 in Fort Wayne. Among the results of the Retreat were the appointment of Bob Denniston as president, development of an action plan to address issues facing the organization and the appointment of Vid Beldavs to the Board. The Board also approved Vid's offer to document the Action Plan that resulted from the Retreat. The report that Vid prepared and Hal Taylor submitted to the Board at the February 1999 Board Meeting recommended the formation of a Planning Committee to develop a strategic plan for NAMI Indiana. The Board approved this recommendation and appointed Vid and Hal Taylor as co-chairs of the Planning Committee. In May, Bob Postlethwait, who had recently retired from Eli Lilly & Company, agreed to join the Planning Committee. A preliminary Strategic Plan was developed by the Committee, which served as the basis for funding proposals that were made to the Indiana Council of Community Mental Health Centers, major pharmaceutical companies and the Indiana Division of Mental Health. The success of the funding proposals in securing funding made it imperative to expand the strategic planning process. In December the Planning Committee was expanded to include Bob Denniston, Abby Flynn, Joan Lafuze, Wanda Mohr and Katrina Gay. The first task of the expanded Planning Committee was to organize the February 12-13, 2000 Board Retreat at Larue Carter. The primary input into this Retreat was a survey of affiliates. The Primary output of the Retreat was a near term action plan from February through August 30, 2000. The most important actions in the Action Plan were the decision to hire an executive director, the development of a search process and the appointment of a Search Committee. Pam McConey was hired and began work on April 18 playing a major role on the Planning Committee. Jim Jones, Executive Director, the ICCMHC, a major donor to NAMI, was invited to serve on the Committee in April as well.

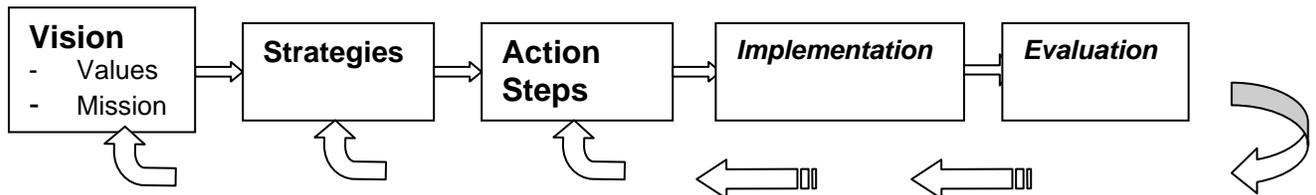

Process and Plan Structure

NAMI's planning process is iterative and has evolved with the organization and its changing requirements. Committee members have suggested ideas and concepts for the plan that have been discussed by the Committee as a whole and carried back to the other standing committees of the Board for further discussion. Changes to the details of the Plan have resulted in changes to the top-level goals and strategies in the plan. The NAMI Strategic Plan is for three years. It follows a structure as laid out by Joseph Quigley in his book Vision: How Leaders Develop It, Share It & Sustain it. Quigley's process builds the commitment and ownership of the organization in the plan through the planning process. Every action taken by the company / organization relates back to its Vision. This makes it easier to resolve conflicts. If actions do not relate back to the vision of the organization there are clear reasons why they should not be done.

According to Vision the strategic plan is developed in three Leadership Conferences (see attached Leadership Conference Planning Process (LCPP) Flowchart

- I. Develop Vision
- II. Strategic Consensus
- III. Total Commitment

To achieve a strategic plan with full commitment we need to reach agreement on the following:

Major Trends and Challenges. What is going on outside of the organization that NAMI must respond to?

Shared Values --- What do we believe as members of NAMI?

Mission Statement -- Why do we exist?

Overarching Goals – What are the big goals that we are trying to achieve over the next few years?

Strategies – How do we propose to achieve these big goals?

Action Steps – Who is responsible, when will they start, when will they finish with specific actions to implement the strategies?

Evaluation - what is the yardstick to measure performance against goals

MAJOR TRENDS AND CHALLENGES

MAJOR TRENDS

1. Improvements in medications and advances in other treatments will enable more of the severely mentally ill to recover and re-integrate as functioning members of their communities.
Implications: These changes will make it necessary for NAMI to add to its traditional support group activity other means of support with an increased emphasis on the process of recovery (E.g. The Clubhouse concept).
2. Greater understanding of the brain's ability to change and adapt (plasticity) and the causes of change and adaptation will inform more prevention and early intervention efforts on a national basis.
Implication/s: NAMI's membership will change to include families with children and programming will reflect those changes in the groups' demographics. *
3. A nomothetic (broad based) approach to research and service delivery will become as equally important as an ideographic (individual) approach.
Implication/s: NAMI's members will become more involved in primary and secondary prevention advocacy. **
4. Within the context of continued aggressive cost controls, large federal budget surpluses will have a positive impact on the quality, availability, and accessibility of mental health services. Implication/s: Opportunities for NAMI programming and funding for initiating new programs should improve during the next 3-5 years.
5. Despite pressures to decrease the cost of care, new research and treatments will result in an increase in the utilization of mental health services.
Implication/s: NAMI programs and services will be in more demand than in the past.
6. Stigma will continue to be a major barrier to funding and treatment, as well as an ongoing challenge to the recovery potential and normalization of our mentally ill citizens.
Implication/s: The need for NAMI's advocacy activities will continue into the foreseeable future.

Notes:

* Although the exact causes of mental illness have not yet been identified, a number of risk factors have been found to increase the potential for maladaptation. Some of these risk factors include poverty, domestic violence out of home placements, low birth weight, lack of appropriate community resources, social isolation, and stigma. As science begins to identify prodromal (early) symptoms of mental illness and to understand the impact of these, new opportunities for early intervention will emerge for families whose loved ones are just beginning to show symptoms. These families will join traditional NAMI families to expand membership beyond families in tertiary care situations. NAMI will be enriched by the diversity of such membership.

For example we know that low birth weight presents significant challenges to children. Recent evidence shows that 30% of LBW infants have poor cognitive outcomes. This is a preventable situation and NAMI will join with other groups (March of Dimes and others) to advocate for greater prenatal care services.

MAJOR CHALLENGES (related to NAMI)

1. The provision of a comprehensive and seamless continuum of mental health care services for all the citizens of Indiana. *
2. The establishment of prevention and early intervention programs.
3. The reduction and eventual elimination of the stigma that acts as a barrier to funding and that confers second class and indigent status on persons with mental illness. **
4. The need for greater research funding for bench and intervention studies. ***

* Includes forensic issues, housing issues, wrap-around services, bridging private-public programming, and access to evidence-based interventions. This also includes outreach services to treatment resistant individuals and the mentally ill homeless.

 Includes need for education the public at all levels (schools, consumers, families, providers, media, legislators).

 Includes genetics, pharmaceutical, and other interventions.
